DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being fully met by Flannery et al. See especially Figs. 1 and 2, and Col. 5, lines 10-43.

Regarding Claims 1 and 5, Applicant argues that Flannery does not disclose the editing feature and a storage unit for storing performance data as recited. However, Flannery discloses a music content characteristic identification and matching system which does comprise (Fig. 2) songs or "media entities" 210 (Col. 5, last paragraph) which read on the recited performance data. Flannery also refers numerous times to "human classification" 220, stored in a database 370, which reads on the editing feature recited.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being fully met by Yamaura et al. See especially Fig. 1 and Col. 2.

Regarding Claims 1 and 5, Applicant argues that Yamaura does not disclose the editing feature as recited. However, Yamaura discloses an editing feature - "a set switch 24 is depressed to set the corrected performance data. In the above manner, even if the user dislikes a portion of the contents of the performance setting data, the contents can be corrected to those the user likes (Col. 5, lines 25-30)." See also Col. 11, lines 1-4.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being fully met by Looney et al. See especially Fig. 5, items 362,364.

Regarding Claims 1 and 5, Applicant argues that Looney does not disclose the editing feature as recited. However, Looney discloses an editing feature - "In addition, custom category information can be included based upon the user's desires (Col. 11, lines 15-16)."

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
